Last year's baj pilgrimage to Makkan and Madina was marred by hloody clashes between Saudi security forces and Iranian pilgrims in which at least 400 people were killed.

The Organisation of Islamic Conference (OIC), meanwhile, has vowed to aid Saudi Arabia if Israel hits missiles in the king-

Prince Saud told a meeting of the OIC foreign ministers in Amman that the decision to set quotas on pilgrim numbers was taken in light of "current circumstances and the increasing number of visitors to the kingdom during the baj.'

He did not give details of the restrictions, hut said they would be in force while a major programme to enlarge the two boly shrines and improve pilgrim facilities was carried out.

Caused

Political demonstrations hy Iranian pilgrims have caused friction between Tebran and Riyadh since the 1979 Iranian revolution brought Ayatollah Khomeini to power.

Iran has announced it intends to send 150,000 pilgrims to Saudi Arahia for this year's haj.

He also said that the organisation supported Saudi measures taken to protect the two holy shrines, and preserve peace and security during the pilgrimage this year.

The OIC nations said today tbey would support Saudi Arabia in the face of veiled Israeli "threats" to destroy the kingdom's new intermediate-range missile batteries. The foreign ministers of the OIC decried any attempt by Israel to "violate international conventions" hy attacking the desert kingdom. Their statement was very similar in wording to earlier declarations by OIC Secretary-General Sbariffudin Pirzada and hy Syria and Jordan, which said they would consider any attack on Saudi Arahia to be an attack on them.

"I am sending a cable to King Fahd supporting his Muslim kingdom and our Saudi brothers against the Israeli threats." Pirzada said.

said yesterday.
Asber Naim, the Information Minister at the Israeli embassy, said he expects Israel's cahinet will vote to keep alive the Sbultz peace initiative when the issue is debated.

"Apparently, Secretary Shultz will be in the Middle East ... in two weeks time again," he told reporters at the National Press Club.

Israel will not reject the US peace proposals, "and if the government indeed decides a neutral way - that means you continue negotiations — then probably Secretary Sbultz will go to the Middle East."

State Department spokesman Charles Redman said that Sbultz had not yet decided to return to the Mideast, where be conducted a diplomatic shuttle last month.

Pakistan denies transit of Iranian Jews

AMMAN, March 23, (Reuter): Pakistan today denied an indirect Iraqi allegation that it was colluding in the organised emigration of Iranian Jews to Israel via Pakistani territory.

There is no such question that Pakistan will ever condone an arrangement whereby there will be a Jewish repatriation to Israel," Pakistani Commerce Minister Mahhuhul Haq said.

"We are on record opposing ... any such move which upsets the balance of population there and upsets the rights of the Palestin-ian people," he told reporters. Haq, representing Pakistan at an Organisation of Islamie Conference meeting in Amman, said his country, which borders Iran, should not be "maligned" on the issue.

Iraqi Foreign Minister Tareq Aziz has accused Iran of colluding with Israel on the emigration of Iranian Jews.

"Recent events have revealed the size of the Jewish emigration from Iran to occupied Pales-tine," Aziz told the OlC in a speech yesterday. He said there had been a rise in the number of Jews passing through Austria and certain Islamie states which are members of this organisation," an apparent reference to Pakistan.

Iraq proposed including the item on the OIC agenda, a move Haq said risked widening rifts among Islamie states.

The United States, which fears that events in Lebanon could disrupt its peace drive in the Middle East, had been using its contacts with Syria to try to hring about inter-Lebanese reconciliation.

The independent An-Nahar newspaper today published a text of what it called "President Gemayel's March 7 paper "of new proposals which official sources described as "modified in-words only, but not in principle."

The revised paper proposed the formation of a committee of cabinet members to draw np ideas within a set period of time on new reforms for abolishing onalism in Lebanon. In his previous two proposals Gemayel suggested a 12-year period to end confessionalism in the political system which gave the minority Christians more say in government. Muslims, seeking to overturn the system, rejected Gemayel's earlier suggestions, saying it was not enough to achieve equal power sharing with the Christians who have dominated key state posts since the country's independence in 1943. Lebanon's unwritten national covenant of 1943 shares out key posts among the main sects, stipulating the President should bea Maronite, the prime minister a Sunni Muslim and the Speaker of Parliament a Shi'ite.

Blocked Palace officials said US ambassador to Lebanon John Kelly visited Gemayel yesterday and restated Washington's interest in current three-way negotiations aimed at paving the way for presidential elections in August.

We bave not reaebed a blocked wall with Damascus and contacts are still under way," the sources quoted Kelly as saying.

In his new proposal Gemayel also suggested that the cabinet be a totally "independent institution" with separate powers and that the President only "chairs the council of ministers but does the council of ministers, but does not vote," An-Nahar said.

When they take pictures, they just shoot even if the main subject is positioned off-centre in the picture area. In this instance, unless they lock the focus on the main subject prior to composing the picture, the subject will be out of focus because the camera will measure the distance to the background, not the distance to the main subject. Chinon's new Multi AF System incorporated in the Auto 3001 fully automatic compact camera virtually eliminates such problems because even if the main subject is positioned off centre of the picture area, one of the three infra-red focus beams will strike the main subject for proper focus measurement. The Multi AF system takes one gigantic step closer to the perfect AF system.

trasts to the sharp, tangy taste of the salads. The parsley, mint tomato and cracked wheat salad known as tabooleh is essential on any mezzeh table, but its success depends on the careful balance of the different ingredients, which the chef had certainly got right at the Al Hamidi. The fattnnsh, by contrast, was a failure - too much lemon juice had been used in the dressing and tnn many tnmatoes in the salad. The shrimp salad was disappointing the shrimps were soft in texture as if underconked but the garlic dressing was appetis-

ing. Like the mezzeh, the main course dishes were generous in size. The grilled king-sized prawns consisted of eight. sweet jumbo prawns arranged nn two skewers nn a bed of lettuce and fresh parsley and served with home-made french fries and a piquant tartare sauce. The grilled zubeidi, which had the same garnish, was cooked to moist, mouthwatering perfection but served with a rather tasteless parsley

The dessert table was limited to Arabic pastries, cremecaramel, muballabia (rosewater flavoured pudding) and fresh fruit salad. We finished the meal with Turkish coffee while listening to live music played on the oudh. The service had been adequate and reasonably attentive but rather sullen. The bill came to KD15.200 which is expensive if you consider that you could find must of the mezzeh and desserts nn the average hotel huffet table, which also nffers you the alternativenfnthercuisine as well, at a much lower price. Depression settles over activists

By Daniel Snelder

SEOUL: After the heady days of revolt last June, a mood of depression has settled over South Korea's student activists.

Last month only a handful of activists, 30 at most, turoed out at a Seoul University to protest the inauguration of Korea's new President. The portable loudspeakers at the top of the university library steps hlared out the message. "Unite to resist the succession of Roh Tae Woo!"

South Korea's vihrant student movement led a revolt of millions against the military-backed government of Chun Doo Hwan. Against all expectations, they won their demand for free, direct elections of the president.

Tens of thousands of students were mobilised during the election campaign to organise for the opposition and to monitor polling to ensure a fair vote.

But their expectations were dashed when the opposition split and the government won a minority victory. Many charged fraud, hut few had the heart to return again to the streets.

'I am very interested in politics," said one Seoul activist, a student at a Catholic medical college. "But after the election, my energies are drained. When Roh comes on the television, I only think that I will have to watch him for five years."

President Roh has impressed many Koreans with the egalitarian imagery of his new government, appealing to the "ordinary people" and eschewing the imperial trappings of power that Chun wrapped himself in.

Critical

==Rob has been critical of the actions of his predecessor, of restrictions on political freedom. and ahuses of power. The middle class, key allies of the students last summer, seems willing to give Roh a chance to prove he is really different. Yet students still remain largely skeptical.

I feel Roh is oot really admitting the mistakes that were committed in the past by the military," said a classmate of the medical student. "He's making conciliatory gestures by partially revealing their wrongdoings ... They are cosmetic changes.

The movement, according to several sources inside its secretive and radical leadership, has two opinions about the changes since June. More hard-line elements hold that they are totally superficial. The other view, says one proponent, is "there is a real, qualitative change. The question is whether it lasts or is tem-

Allies

At the same time, they are eagerly seeking allies outside the campus -not among the middle class but among farmers and industrial workers.

The growing anti-Americanism of the student movement, they hope, gives them common ground with farmers who have taken to the streets themselves in recent months to protest American pressure to open up Korea's market to beef and other agricultural imports.

The Roh government, the student statement accused, "has threatened the lives of farmers by importing imperialist American

The students also declared their solidarity with the labour movement which is preparing for its traditional March-April spring contract negotiations.

Last summer, taking off from the June popular uprising, workers staged a massive, nationwide strike wave demanding higher wages and the right to form trade unions.

The government and employers expect a similar. though less intense, period of lahour disputes in the next several months.

The lahour movement has long been a target of the students, especially the left-wing elements who avow a Marxist goal of creating a class movement.

Startling revelations

SIR: Congratulations to the Arah Times for exposing irregularities at the United Indian School, Abbasia (March 14). I was shocked hy Mr Kalandar's lahelling of Indians as "gossipers." It is not the joh of the community to prove or disprove whether there are alleged irregularities at the school, such as the visa racket. Such investigations are the responsibility of the government of Kuwait.

Mr Kalandar's statement of not starting afternoon shift may have been made in good faith. But it is common knowledge that no parents will send their child if UIS atarted an afterooon shift.

As far as we know, the present board members neither have the academic excellence nor administrative experience to run a school.

About "dud cheques," this is not an isolated incideot. The school had borrowed money from an Indian businessman to overcome financial difficulties. Later, the repayment cheque given to the husinessman bounced. This shows lack of integrity

Finally, the chairman has assured the Indian community that they can discuss "any problem" with him. I tried the school office and managed to get a telephone number of the chairman. But it does not work. Will the chairman give his contact telephone number and address to discuss our future complaints.

> A parent, (Nama and address,

A way to make quick money

SIR: Thank you for revealing the "hidden truth" about the United Indian School, I urge the new sponsor to be careful in dealing with "opportunists," whose only intention is to make

However, I wish to contradict with the contention that the school was founded hy businessmen." It was started by a group of educated, young, working class people who contributed their savings for a good cause - to help parents with young children.

I am a close friend of one of the former founding members. After the school started, they realised the duhious moneymaking activities. I know everything that took place at the school. The chairman alongwith the former sponsor bought huses from a local company under the school's name and later sold them. They produced documents claiming indehtedness of the school and drove away innocent members saying: "Those who are bold can stand hy me." Most members left, leaving a giant portion of their contribution.

The new sponsor had no knowledge of their previous activities and began "reforming." But it was only "old wine served in new glasses." The school is a tailor-made project, a way to make quick mooey.

> A parent, (Nama and address aupplied).

Monkey business

SIR: This refers to a report on the UIS. The monkey husiness going on is not surprising. The private schools do not work for the welfare of children.

A former co-founder of UIS. Jose George, broke away from the present UIS board to establish the Kuwait Indian School, Farwania, Why?

Apparently he wanted a visa for his sister, which was not provided hy the UIS maoagement. Now Mr George's sister works at the KIS. Its management is worse than that of a baqqala. There are no teaching ethics. The principal is not qualified. Maids were promoted as teachers. Recently, a lady working as a secretary has been given a teaching position.

Parents pay KD 7.500 for school transport. The transport contractor receives only KD. 4 per child from the school. It seems the school is first a transport operator and then a teachiog institute. Children report to the school at 9 am when classes are supposed to start at 8 am. schools is just to make money.

H. C. Das,

Truth exposed

SIR: I congratulate the Arah Times for publishing the story on the United Indian School, Abbasia (AT, March 14). It was essential to expose the truth. We welcome the step taken by the new sponsor to reform the school management hy introducing educated and cultured people to the board. New members might be able to make radical changes. In the report a UIS board member was quoted as saying people are "slinging mud at us." They are already immersed in mud.

Can the hoard members boldly say they have not received money, directly or indirectly, to issue visas? I have the evidence to prove - through the Arah Times columns - that they have been involved in the alleged visa racket. If the sponsor can guarantee jobs, those who have paid for visas will come forward and give a statement. The reasons for their silence is that "giving and taking" money to ohtain visas is a crime in Kuwait

> Ona who knows, (Name and address supplied)

All Indians not rumour-mongers

SIR: I would like to protest against a statement made by the sponsor of the United Iodian School (AT, March 14). It is not right to say the entire Indian community is "spreading rumours and gossip." One of the board members openly asked me to contact the school office and pay KD1,000 for a visa. This, certainly, is not gos-

It is common knowledge that money has been made hy the members - and not the sponsor. The founding members of the hoard left the school due to irregular practices.

We welcome the effort to "spruce up the image" of the school. But someone brought in for a clean-up has already been involved in many scandals. It is possible that the situation will be repeated here.

> A parent, (Name and address supplied).

Excellent coverage

SIR: Thanks to the Arah Times for a clear and unhiased report about the International Rally. The words which you used in the report are unmatchable. You have certainly used fair words for the competitors, criticising the organisers and realising the full pain and effort put in hy the marshals. I really feel that at least somebody cares about the marshals. I would also appreciate Jack Luhbat who put in his utmost efforts for the rally. Unfortunately the committee proved itself to be a total failure due to lack of experience and favourit-

During the prize giving ceremony there was no one to give a proper speech. Even the sponsors of the rally were not present.

On the different stages and the control areas there was no proper arrangement of police and lights. The marshals were really bothered and disturbed hy the spectators. Some of the boys even threw stones at the marshals and threatened to damage their cars.

None of the committee members thanked the marshals for their efforts.

> Kanwaijit Singh Maini Hawaily,

Marshals thanked

SIR: I would like to extend my deepest gratitude to all those who gave their time in making this event possible. Thanks to A. G. P. Construction for providing 90 Filipinos and three huses. Thanks to all the stage commanders, safety officers and communication officers. particularly to Mohammed Aslam, Saeed Mustafa, K. Singh Maini, Ahmed Nadeem, Amar Jit, Ashwant Singh and Raj Bansal.

Jack Lubbat,

Flights to Goa

SIR: Air India plans to introduce three weekly flights to Goa via Bombay from March 27 when its summer schedule begins. The flights will be on Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays.

The Goan community had not asked for flights to Goa, via Bombay. Every Goan passenger will now have to spend four hours in the transit lounge at Bombay's Sahar Airport. Per-haps. Goans should take their mandolin along to entertain themselves.

Air India headquarters have repeatedly denied the Goan community's demand to introduce a weekly direct flight to Goa on the plea that there is no passenger potential for such a flight. It is surprising that they have now agreed to fly three sorties via Bombay.

Since the Gulf-Goa flights were started in 1986, no arrangements have been made for storing unaccompanied baggage at Goa. Further KD80 for 100 kilos of personal baggage seems to be too much. The Goans have no choice now: take it or leave it. Vincent D'Souza

Sick leave curtailed

SIR: Recently I was taken ill while on holiday and was given a sick leave certificate. I was referred by the Salhiya Clinicto a medical board at the Mubarak Al Kabir Hospital to examine my medical history and verify the leave application. The medical board consisted of the head of urology department. After examination, the doctors found that I deserved the sick-leave granted by a private doctor. According to the procedure, the medical report was forwarded to the Medical Council, which changed the report, deducting a number of days of sick-leave. If the members of Medical Council are so qualified, why should a patient be referred to an expert medical hoard for examination, that, I believe results in a waste of time.

A sufferer, (Name and address suppiled).

Feeling insecure

SIR: This refers to Mr Ahmed's "Unpardonable Offence" (AT, March 10). Mr Ahmed is selling Bangladesh cheap. Anyone could take over any part of that country by merely placing an airline advertisement. This shows the unpardonable amount of disrespect and insecurity Mr Ahmed has for his country. Prakash

More incentive needed than mere awards

Dearth of films with a social conscience

The question that arises is whether an award is enough incentive for a producer to take up unconventional themes and tackle it in an honest, straightforward way. All said and done, a film is made for an audience, which must go to the theatre to make it financially viable. Stories revolving round such themes, however socially relevant they may be, cannot embrace all the usual criterion of entertainment. In competition with the so-called formula' films, with top stars performing silly antics, such films stand no chance at all.

The second question, is whether films can be tailored to attain specific goals. Opinions on this differ widely. A renowned film maker like Satyajit Ray has always maintained that films cannot be created to suit specific objectives. In that event, they fall within the realm of propaganda, better suited to the Films Division or the gover-

Although this year's national film awards will bestow the elusive 'best' title to a film which portrays a glaring social or national problem, producers by and large shy away from tackling these themes in a realistic and honest manner. Our Bombay correspondent looks at some of the reasons.

Upper-lower caste problems are tackled in Mera Naam Tera Naam where two characters with the same name exchange places. nment controlled media. At the other extreme, there are commercial "filmwallas" who embrace a social purpose, with an eye on tax exemption, a forms of recognition. They know that the National Awards, decided by an elite jury, are beyond their reach. At times, however, such mass films do succeed in conveying the message to a large section of the audience, in their own coarse way. But hy and large, they are like any other film, using the social purpose only as drawing label on a routine formula exercise. For example two films are being currently made as a crusade against dowry.

called Dulhan Aur Dahej and Hum Dahej Layee Hain. They adopt a weird interpretation of women's lih. In one, the three girls who cannot get grooms turn into Amazons and punish those who indulge in giving or taking of dowry. And this leads to a virtual halt in marriages.

which indirectly preaches an entirely different goal of family

Some time back, an established producer, Tahir Hussain, had the cheek to make a comedy Dulha Bikta Hai on this burning problem. It flopped at the hox-office, till it was propped up by the entertainment tax relief in some states. After this, it became very profitable. Then,

Doordarshan in its wisdom

also chose it for an all-India telecast, after giving it good publicity. This brought in more money. But compare all this with the reality, where unmarried girls hang themselves because their parents cannot collect dowry or young hrides are hurnt off hy in-laws in the greed to get more. Instead of tacklingsuch occurances, the film showed the hero pretending marriage with two girls to get his own two sisters married.

Another thorny problem of caste wars and distinctions has been diluted into a comic form hy Ramesh Talwar in his new film Mera Naam Tera Naam, financially aided hy no less than the National Film Development Corporation. Can anything be more deplorable than reducing the upper-lower caste issue to the level of two men with the same name, Ravi, who decide to exchange places? In a misguided flush of frankness,

Ramesh Talwar declared that he got the inspiration from two officers called Ravi working at the N.F.D.C. office itself, (though not exactly with any caste problem). In fact, the film was first titled as Ravi Aur Ravi. So now we know where ideas for new -wave films are acquired if not born.

One cannot find further fault with Mera Naam Tera Naam for jumping into romantic escapades, songs and dances, on even the Mandakini routine of the new heroine Tanvi Azmi, gyrating with her lover under an artificial waterfall. Another song the side hero and heroine Suparna (one among the recent dare-bare girls) turned out to be so "hot" that it was voluntarily "censored." We don't know if the two Ravis at N.F.D.C. indulge in all this romancing husiness. The tragedy of the comedy is that it is not even funny. From a packed invited audience at Bombay's Nehru Centre, the film could barely draw a few chuckles and sniggers, not to speak of the yawns. It has hardly any potential for distributors to buy it. Ironically, Bhasker Chandavarkar's powerful film Atyachar (Atrocities) on the same problem and funded by the N.F.D.C. itself some years back has been kept under tight wraps, without any effort to get it distributed, promoted or put on the telly. Why produce a film, if it is to be kept suppressed? But the Corporation seems lightly tickled by its new comic adventure. After all, it has whisked away caste conflicts with simply a change of identity. If only such tricks were possible in reality.

Fantasyis generally the solu-tion for all social problems tackled by the makers of for-mula films. A larger than life figure of a man or woman arises to solve the problem hy taking the law (and some lethal weapon) in his or her own hands. But no social purpose is served by showing a camera made miracle worker, who hrings an end to evil or tyranny or injustice in a magical way. Rather a practical person fighting towards that end, whether with or without success, would help to set an example for others to follow. But in Kudrat Ka Kanoon women's welfare is achieved by the victimised heroine turning into a femme fatale for revenge.

An alternative is to take recourse to the style of the documentary or the new genre of the docu-drama. But then, it tends to make the film too dry and undramatic. And any sign of a documentary, whether in image, sound or the spoken world is almost like poison for most cinegoers. Shyam Ben-egal's Susman, dwelt on the idea of having cooperatives for the handloom weavers, who are exploited. But in the absence of a proper dramatic script, the film meandered, lost sight of any climax and ended a hruptly. A large part of it looked like a documentary done with fictional characters. So Susman hes unsold and unreleased till to

In my opinion, the only proper way is to shed fake no-tions and come to the heart of the problem. This must be within a tight narrative structure, where the mounting drama shakes one up and compensates for all other formulas and frills. That itself will help to re-define what is manoranjan or entertainment, instead of long TV discussions on the theme as some new-wave directors are prone to have. As for the newly started Awards, (to be given for the films of 1987) we can understand the other relevant social issues. But why has the topic of probibition been resurrected, when most state governments will have none of it? A good feature film on family welfare, the disguised term for family planning or hirth control, will be difficult to find. But why have the new regulations left out national integration, which is the need of the bour? Perhaps, after the nationwide telecasting of Tamas, any film that shows token communal harmony will he looked upon as being ridiculous and puerile. In fact, the only solution possible is for the N.F.D.C, Films Division and the Indian TV to directly finance and promote strong moving films on these prohlems.

Firoze Rangoonwalla's column will appear in the Arab Times on Saturdays.

South did not feel any compulsion to jump shift at his second turn. There was no established fit, so there was no reason to consume bidding space when the final destination was not yet clear. When North showed a reasonable hand with his jump preference, South made up for his conservative approach by bidding what he thought he could make.

West made the natural lead of the top of his sequence. Declarer won, drew trumps in two rounds, cashed the ace of hearts and then ran the jack of diamonds to East's queen. Since a beart return would give declarer a ruff-sluff (declarer would have ruffed a heart loser in dummy had he held one) and a diamond would lead into the table's tenace, East decided his best chance was to find partner with the jack of spades. Unfortunately, that was not the case, and declarer claimed the rest of the tricks.

Had East stopped to count the hand, he could have given his side a fighting chance. Declarer obviously held five clubs, four spades (he did hid the suit), two hearts and two diamonds. A diamond return into the board's tenace would give declarer one discard, but not his contract. South would still have three spades, and either be would bave a natural spade loser if West did have the jack, or else he would have to guess the location of the queen to succeed.

FAMILY DOCTOR -By DR ALLAN BRUCKHEIM

QUESTION: Can you explain biliary atresia to me?

ANSWER: Biliary atresia is a funny-sounding disease with serious consequences to the very young infent. The word biliary comes from the Laun word "bilis" or hile. Atresia comes from Greek words meaning "witbout a bole" and means blockage. Babies who have this condition suffer from a blockage in their hile ducts which keeps the hile from flowing normally into the intestines. The result is a "back-up" of hile into the liver which causes "jaundice" or yellowing of the skin and eventually cirrhosis (scar tissue) which interferes with the liver's normal job of metabolising (chenging) carhobydrates, fats and proteins into a form of food the body can use.

As yet, the exact cause is unknown. But researchers suspect a virus near the time of QUESTION: I never knew that doctors number diseases. Recently my doctor told me that my child had fifth disease. What did he mean?

ANSWER: I can see you are a bit confused hut it is easy to straighten out. Normally diseases heve names that describe the condi-Uon or bear the name of the discoverer. However, in the case of children's diseases, there are five of them that bave similar rashes. Four received names. They ere German measles, measles, scarlet fever end ease or "fourth disease"). When the fifth childhood rash was discovered it was simply named "fifth disease" (it's also known as erythema infectiosum). This disease affects school-age children worldwide, infants and edults only being affected infrequently. Only e low grade fever accompanies the infection, which characteristically produces a rash that gives the child a "slapped-cheek" eppearance. This rash fades after about 11 days, is usually itchy and becomes worse if the child is bathed in warm water, becomes upset or rubs the skin. No treatment is required, complications are rare, and this childhood disease is considered to be a very mild one. Compared with some of the jawbreaking names we give diseases. I think "fifth disease" is a simple one to remember.

was the biggest annual increase since a 5.1 per cent rise in 1984.

This figure measures growth from the fourth quarter to the fourth quarter each year. Averaging growth of all four quarters showed the GNP expanded 2.9 per cent in 1987, the same as 1986. Growth

The 4.8 per cent GNP growth in the fourth quarter followed growth of 4.3 per cent in the July-September quarter and was the fastest quarterly growth rate since an increase of 5.4 per cent in the first three months of 1986.

The rapid growth occurred without a rise in inflation. A price index tied to the GNP rose at an annual rate of 3.6 per cent in the fourth quarter, little changed from a 3.4 per cent third quarter

In a second report, the Commerce Department said US corporations' after-tax profits rose 1.6 per cent in the fourth quarter, the poorest showing since profits fell 3.7 per cent in the first quarter of 1987. Profits were up 5.5 per cent in the third quarter.

Spending

The upward GNP revision today was in line with the expectations of economists, who have heen boosting their own forecasts of 1988 growth in light of better-than-expected economic news so far this year.

The report showed that consumer spending slowed in the fourth quarter less than previously believed, falling at an annual rate of 2.5 per cent instead of an earlier estimate of 3.1

In other good news, the report said American exports were rising at an annual rate of 15.9 per cent, faster than earlier thought, helping to narrow the US trade deficit. Also boosting growth was a 1.6 per cent rise in husiness investment spending. A month ago, the government had estimated that husiness invest-

Gulf producers call on local shippers to lift more exports

ABU DHABI, March 23, (Reuter): Gulf Arab petrochemical producers have called on Gulf-owned shipping firms to increase their share in exporting the region's annual output of nine million tonnes. "National shipping agencies are invited to increase their investments in the field of transporting our products," said a statement on Tuesday by the first Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) petrochemical producers conference. Regional producers met for two days here and discussed ways to promote exports by improving support services. The nil-rich GCC states have invested more than $20 billion in building a petrochemical industry. The GCC annually produces about five milling tonnes of petrochemicals and 4.5 million tonnes of fertilisers. Regional shipping companies lift just 10 per cent of the GCC output, most of which is exported. The industry experts also discussed setting up a combined fleet to avoid high shipping

"It is not an easy project. A decision on this issue requires higher level meetings," Badr Al Suweidi, general manager of the UAE national fertiliser company, Fertil, told Reuters. The GCC also groups Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Qatar, Bahrain

He told financial leaders from 44 member countries that "this includes a substantial replenishment of the bank provided we can reach a consensus on the essential elements of reform." Soviet bloc economies slowed in '87

Soviet bloc economies, after expanding strongly in 1986. slowed down last year due mainly to a fall in farm output, weak demand for exports and lagging efficiency, United Nations economists said today.

The annual economic survey for 1987-88 by the secretariat of the UN Economic Commission for Europe (ECE) said the Soviet economy grew by 2.3 per cent in 1987, compared with 4.1 per cent in the previous year.

Dropped

Performances varied among its six East European partners — Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland and Romania — hut growth for this group as a whole dropped to 3.2

Bad weather considerably damaged crops in 1987 and, although farm production rose slightly in the Soviet Union, it dropped hy 0.6 per cent in the other communist states taken percent from 4.6 percent in 1986.

Demand for exports fell, and efforts to improve economic efficiency failed to produce expected gains, the survey said.

"There was no success in reducing energy and raw material consumption per unit of output as projected. The engineering branch was mainly responsible for shortfalls in the production and delivery of equipment which bad been expected to boost efficiency in other branches," the survey said. The outlook for the communist hloc in 1988 envisaged an increase in growth of a little more than three per cent, it added.

All seven countries would need to make big efforts to catch up lost momentum in the remaining years of their respective 1986-1990 five-year economic plans, and some plan targets might be already out of reach, it added.

Stagnated

The 34-nation ECE, which groups all European nations together with the United States and Canada, said East-West trade stagnated in 1987, Future prospects remained dull, although economic reforms in Soviet block states were aimed at increasing export incentives, the survey said. Exports Moscow's East European partners increased Western exports hy only one per cent, and also prolonged import restraints. Total Soviet hard currency

U.K. SHARES REMAIN DULL IN QUIET LATE BUSINESS LONGON, NARCH 23, REUTER - THE MARKET REMAINED OULL IN LATE TRADING BUT SHARE PRICES WERE SLIGHTLY ABOVE THEIR LOWEST LEVELS OF THE DAY AS THE WEEK'S LACKLUSTRE TREND CONTINUED. DEALERS SAID THAT UNCERTAINTIES OVER THE PATH OF STERLING MERE KEEPING INVESTORS TO THE SIGELIHES AND OVERSHADOMEO ANOTHER

FLURRY OF MOSTLY POSITIVE COMPANY RESULTS. THE BANK OF ENGLAND INTERVENED THIS MORNING TO CURR THE COUND'S RISE AGAINST THE MARK BUT THE CURRENCY WAS AGAIN STANDING AT AROUNO 3.11 MARKS IN LATE AFTERNOON TRADING. AT 1530 GMT, YHE FTSE 100 INDEX STOOD 5.7 POINTS LOWER AT ,829.7 AFTER A LOW OF 1,828.1 JUST AFTER MIDSESSION.

SHARES IN MAJOR EXPORTING COMPANIES WERE HURT BY THE POUND'S CONTINUED STRENGTH ALTHOUGH OEALERS POINTED OUT THAT MOST ARE WELL HEOGEO AGAINST CURRENCY FLUCTUATIONS. ICI LOST 5P TO 1,042 WHILE GLAXO WAS A SIMILAR AMOUNT LOWER AT 1,049. BAT WAS 9P HIGHER, HOMEVER, AT 465 AFTER HEWS ITS

PRE-TAX PROFITS FOR 1987 SHOWED LITTLE CHANGE FROM THE 1986 RESULT AT 1.39 BILLION STG. OEALERS SAIO A SLIGHTLY LOWER FIGURE OF AROUND 1.35 BILLION STG HAD BEEN EXPECTED. BAT SAIO A SUBSTANTIAL UNDERLYING ADVANCE IN ITS TRADING PERFORMANCE FOR THE YEAR AS A WHOLE ALLOWED THE COMPANY TO ANNOUNCE AN 18 PCT FINAL DIVIDENO RISE TO 16.9P PER SHARE.

London Gold

LONDON, MARCH 23, REUTER - GOLD BULLION CLOSED FIRMER THIS AFTERNOON DRAGGED UP BY NIGHER SILVER PRICES AND TODAY'S DECISION THAT THE OPEC PRICE COMMITTEE WILL MEET IN THE FIRST WEEK OF APRIL, OEALERS SAIO.

GOLD CLOSED THIS AFTERNOON AT 451.00/451.50 DLRS AN OUNCE, UP FROM TUESDAY'S FINAL QUOTE OF 448.00/448.50 DLRS, AND ALSO UP ON THE AFTERHOON FIK OF 449.50 OLRS. STRONG BUYING OF SILVER BY LOCALS THIS AFTERNOON HELPED FIRM THE SILVER MARKET, AND THIS IN TURN PULLEO UP GOLO PRICES IN LAYE AFTERNOON TRADE. A SLIGHTLY WEAKER DOLLAR ALSO GAVE THE PRECIOUS METAL MARKETS SOME SUPPORT DEALERS ADDED.

London Money Market

LONDON, MARCH 23, REUTER - MONEY RATES EASED AS STERLING CAME UNDER REHEWED UPWARD PRESSURE BUT THE MARKET WAS WARY, ABOUT GUESSING YHE GOVERNMENT'S RESPONSE, DEALERS SAIO. THE BANK OF ENGLAND WAS REPORTED EARLIER TODAY TO BE

INTERVENING IN THE FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET TO PREVENT STERLING BREAKING THROUGH 3.11 MARKS, AND THE POUND WAS STUCK JUST UNDER THIS LEVEL IN LATE AFTERHOON TRADE.

IT IS WIGELY BELIEVED THAY STERLING WOULD HAVE TO RISE MUCH FURTHER, TO AROUND 3.15 MARKS, BEFORE THE AUTHORITIES WOULD BRING OUT THE INTEREST RATE WEAPON AGAIN, OEALERS SAID. AS A RESULT, MARKET FALLS WERE LIMITED TO A CAUTIOUS 1/16 POINT.

Wall Street Market Report

New York, March 23, (Reuter): Wall Street stocks showed little change on the day, though the Dow 30 was up a bit and a the general market showed an upward bias. Brokers said investors found little in the news or the outlook to invite either serious buying or selling. The Dow 30 index was unchanged but a few more issues showed gains than losses. Trading was moderate.

The Amex Index rose 0.66 to 299.46. Resorts Intl Class A fell 2-1/4 to 29-5/8 on the Amex. Resorts said Merv Griffin's raised bid for the company can not be accepted due to the condition that Donald Trump sell his shares of the company.

in quiet market

KUWAITI dinar interbank deposits eased across the board in moderate trade, with a 91-day Treasury bill issue failing to absorb excess liquidity because of Central Bank intervention.

Bankers said the Central Bank bought a large proportion of the KD100 million offering, which was heavily oversubscribed with bids totalling KD166 million.

During the past few weeks the bank has been intervening on the secondary market to control liquidity. It also subscribed strongly to a March 30 issue of one-year bonds, which was raised on Wednesday to KD79.5 million from 50 million to meet demand. Funds

"The market is confused. The Central Bank bought so many Treasury bills that most banks are long on funds," one dealer said. The average yield on the bills rose to 5.026 per cent from 4.087 at the last issue two weeks

Overnight, tomorrow-next and spot-next all dropped several points, trading at four, three per ceni. Later they were welloffered at two per cent. Onemonth to one-year funds eased to levels of 4-3/4, 1/4 per cent from 5-1/4, 4-3/4 on Tuesday. The Central Bank adjusted its dinar exchange rate to 0.27509/ 19 to the dollar from 0.27492/02. Commercial banks quoted rates of 0.27515/20.

Meanwhile, Saudi riyal interbank deposits displayed a softer tone yesterday in a very quiet and liquid market which saw some activity in the short end. Dealers said high liquidity helped to dampen activity. Trade focused on position-squaring ahead of the Gulf Friday weekend, but most banks had already covered themselves. Interest

"There is nothing going on — people have already squared up," one dealer said. Traders have lost interest in speculating on a possible Saudi government issue of up to three billion rivals worth of bonds, initially expected in March. There has been no news on the timing, amount and terms of the offering.

Spot-next funds fell to four, 3-

1/2 per cent from 7-1/2, seven on Tuesday and traded at those levels. One-week was quoted at 6-1/2, 3/8 per cent.

IMF sees huge current account surplus for South Korea

SEOUL, South Korea, March 23, (AP): An International Monetary Fund mission predicts a huge current account surplus for South Korea and is suggesting the country accelerate the revaluation of the won against the US dollar, sources said today.

The government sources, speaking on condition of anon-ymity, said the IMF team expected Korea to post a current account surplus of more than $10 billion this year, higher than the $7 billion envisaged by the gover-

Under an agreement with the United States, South Korea is committed to adjusting the value of the won through consultations with the IMF, which is seen as a neutral party.

Washington has been pressing Seoul to let the won appreciale rapidly, reportedly by as much as 15 per cent, and take other market measures to help reduce the US trade deficit with Korea, which rose to nearly $10 billion last year.

Seoul is opposed to any drastic appreciation of the won in fear of losing exports.

GCC bank chiefs to meet

MUSCAT, March 23, (Kuna): The GCC governors of central banks are to meet here next Wednesday at the premises of the Central Bank of Oman, Oman News Agency reported.

EEC set to sign cooperation accord with GCC

BRUSSELS, March 23, (Reuter): The European Economic Community and the Gulf Cooperation Couocil (GCC) began talks today which could lead to a free trade pact between the two blocks, EEC officials Negotiators from the Community and the six Arah states of the GCC were expected to conclude on Thursday an agreement on stepping up scientific, indus-trial and political cooperation.

EEC officials said the accord would be very general hut would commit hoth sides oot to introduce aoy oew tariffs or trade barriers against each other.

Purpose

Its main purpose was to open the way for talks on a much more far-reaching trade agreement between the 12 nation Community and GCC members - Saudi Arahia, Kuwait. the UAE, Qatar, Bahrain and Oman, -

Diplomats said it would also signal political support from the EEC for Arah states threatened by the Gulf war between Iran and

However, EEC sources said member states were still far from agreement on how far the Community should open its markets to Gulf exports.

At present the EEC crude oil from the Gulf free of duty but imposes tariffs on the region's petrochemical exports to protect its own industry.

Gulf states, suffering from a heavy drain on their resources because of their support for Iraq in its war against Iran, have applied to the EEC to end these tariffs hut some EEC member states say they must stay in place.

Japan cuts back on oil imports from Mideast

TOKYO, March 23, (Kuoa): Japan imported 16.9 million kilolitres of oil last February, representing a decline of 4.9 per ceot against the preceding month, according to official figures published today.

The Ministry of International Trade and Industry, said oil imports from the Middle East dropped by 4.5 per cont to TI million kilolitres, and liftings of Opec oil also dipped to 73 per cent in February compared to 73.6 in January.

The required fuel-economy this year is 26 miles (41 km) per gallor (3.8 litres) of gasoline. Manufacturers that fail to meet the standards are liable to fines. Using mathematical models, Crandall and Graham estimated the Cafe standards had reduced the average weight of cars by 500 pouods (225 kg) to 3,100 (1,410 kg), despite sharp declines in oil prices after 1981 that in an unregulated market would be expected to encourage manufacture of larger cars.

That decline in weight "caused by Cafe is associated with a 14 to 27 per cent increase in occupant fatality risk," the study said. The researchers applied that range to existing traffic fatality figures to make their estimate for 1989 The estimate took into account such factors as the tendency of occupants of smaller cars, compared with those of larger cars, to buckle their safety belts, the study said. Study the Mexican plan allows it to pay back the debt little by little. Costa Rica held informal contacts here with its foreign bank advisory committee, and bopes to resume negotiations to restructure its $1.5 billion commer-cial bank debt in April.

The arrangement with Mexico is a unique variation on mechaaisms to take advantage of discounts on Third World debt, Mexico's pubbc credit director Angel Gurria said.

Debt

Mexico last month auctioned banks in exchange for 3.7 billion in old debt, while Bolivia is buying back its own deht at 11 cents on the dollar, again directly from the creditor banks themselves. Petricioli said Mexico would be launching new schemes in the next few months to help reduce its debt service burden. The debtfor-bonds schemes required Mexico to buy $532 million in US Treasury zero coupon bonds as collateral. He said further debt reduction schemes will require additional finance and that is in part why Mexico on March 30 will draw down the final $1.1 billion of its $7.7 billion loan package signed last year. The overall amount was reduced in part to 5.5 billion due to Mexico's better than expected economic performance in 1987 4. Kuwaii Aviation Services Co.

INDIA is another culture. another world. A visit to India can be the holiday of a lifetime. a great experience, something you will never forget.

It is important for the visiting tourist to know that India is a vast subcootinent with a rare admixture of races, peoples, languages, customs and tradi-

Few countries cover such a wide spectrum. Anythiog anyone says about India could be true. Equally true would be the opposite view! To describe India is like the story of the five blind men, each of whom touched one part of ao elephaot and gave a different description of what the elephant looked Likewise, each visitor to India will, inevitably, hold a different opinion. It is a land of great variety, seemingly of contradictions, where the past of thousands of years is living and vivid. The people, their colour, the intermingling of the past and present are india's greatest charm, her great attraction.

India for the tourist India can boast of tourist attractions of a variety that cannot be seeo aoywhere else in the world. To the north of lodia are the world's highest mountains, the mighty Himalayas, offering havens of unmatched beauty against a back-drop of snow-clad mountains. On the western and eastern coastlines are virgin beaches with a tropical amhience of coconut palms and white sands and a hinterland of lush green nice-fields and meandering

There are secluded island resorts with rain-forests and coral reefs. There are backwaters, lagoons and waterways of great beauty, and forests with a wide variety of animal and bird life.

India is the ultimate destination of the tourists in search of adventure. Mountaineering, trekking and rock-climbing, ballooning and hang-gliding, camel treks and desert safaris, white-water running and river exploration are some of the exciting possibilities.

For the tourist in search of a fun or sports holiday, there is skiing, scuba diving and underwater coral viewing, angling, wild life and bird viewing. For the sportsman there are golf, tennis, hadminton, riding, polo, swimming and motor rallies amongst other sports.

For the tourist in search of sun, sea and surf, there are resorts on the western ones provide water sports and an unforgetable holiday in the

The best season for mountaineering is from May to October and six months' notice at least is required for booking lodia is, again, the destina-tion for trekkers in search of adventure, the solitude of mountains and the awesome beanty of trekking routes. There are treks from the short and easy to the long challenges of snowy peaks. The spectacular Himalayas, the Abode of Snow, evoke unmatched feelings of reverence and excitement. Peninsular India offers natural heauty of another kind, clothed in green woodland - aod - fragrant onchards. The Western Chats, the Aravalli Hills, the Satpura Range and the Nilgiri Mountains have a rich heritage of flora and fauna, each with a special lure of its own.

There are, besides, excavations and monuments covering millennia in history to remind the visitor of a multi-faceted multi-religious couotry where the aesthetic sense in Man and his spiritual fervour have comhined to produce works of art that are among the most beautiful in the world.

Little realised is the fact that india has a stroog infrastructure of tourist facilities which provide for travel within the country in comfort. There are deluxe and palace hotels uniquely Indiao in character. There are hotels of 3 to 5-star level for the medium and highbudget tourist, and I and 2-star hotels. Travellers Lodges. Tourist Bungalows and Youth Hostels for the hudget traveller.

Airlines and Indian Vayudoot operate air services to the msin cities and towns. The Iodian Railways, on the other hand, give you the chance to see the country-side. For those who prefer road travel there are chauffer-driven limousines, tourist taxis and coaches available for hire. Your Indian Travel Agent, Tour Operator, can help you draw up exciting and exotic itineraries and organise land arraogements.

History seems to have a hold on Kashmir

Another world, another time

By Sara Terry

SRINAGAR, India — "If there be Paradise on earth," wrote a Moghul ruler centuries ago. "this is it; oh, this is it!" To the uninitiated, the emperor's enthusiastic assessment of the charms of Kashmir may smack ever so slightly of Madisoo Avenue hyperbole.

But for those who've been to india's nonhernmost state nestled to the snowy arms of the Himalayas — the Moghul's description is hard to fault.

Snowcapped peaks surround the Vale, or valley, of Kashmir like a panoramic post card. Io the spring, rice paddies spread across the valley like a lush green carpet and "shikaras"— gondola-style boats - skim quietly across the lily pads that fill Dal Lake.

There is a tranquillity here of centuries gone hy, a gentle cadence of living that has yet to be hurried aloog by the pres-sures of the 20th century. Which is not to say that Kashmir has been untouched by the modern world; for 40 years now, since Indian iodependence, Kashmir has been a territory sometimes violently disputed by the governments of

Typically, Kashmiris simply shrug off the ongoing standoff. They are a proud of people, and some of them see their land as a country apart - a detachment that stems at least partly from the fact that although Kashmir was conquered by the Moghuls in 1587, it was never incorporated by the British into colonial India.

The British, however, did leave a legacy of sorts in Kashmir. Like the Moghul emperors before them, the colonial British rulers flocked to the cool heights of Kashmir wheo the scorching heat of Delhi became too much to bear. Although Kashmir's maharajah refused to allow the British to own land or huild oo it, the British came up with the creative alternative

As early as 1956, the Government understood the world-wide ramifications of this new service industry and realised that it had to play the role of the developing agency—to build hotels in places of historical, scenic and cultural interest, develop adequate communication links to such increase places and promotional efforts.

Two top jockeys resume rivalry

DONCASTER. England, March 23. (Reuter): Two jockeys Steve Cauthen and Pat Eddery renew their rivalry tomorrow with controversy lurking in the wings.

The start of the British flat racing season at Doncaster sees the introduction of a new rule hanning excessive use of the

Like most riders, hoth Cauthen, the reigning champioo. and Eddery can be relied on to give their horse every encouragement in a tight finish. But now the jockey club, alarmed by some poblic disquiet, has warned that jockeys using the whip to excess may face suspen-

What constitutes 'excess' could pose problems, though authorities cite Lester Piggott's driving finale when he won the 1977 Derby on the Minstrel as an example.

Destination

How it works in practice remains to be seen, but the path from the unsaddling enclosure to the stewards' room may be a wellworn one hy the end of the season in November.

A period of suspension for either Cauthen or Eddery could be enough to decide the destination of this year's title.

Last year the American regained the crown from Irishman Eddery by two winners (197-195) and it could be just as close Cauthen continues to ride for the powerful Henry Cecil stable, while Eddery calls upon the Guy Harwood Empire riding as usual for ooe of the leading owners, Khalid Abdullab of Sandi Arabia.

Three leading Loodon bookmakers make Eddery the slight favourite to land his sixth jockeys championship. Two other oddslayers make Cauthen the narrow favourite.

> The American bad another memorable year in 1987 wirning the English derby on Reference Point and the French Oaks on Indian Skimmer.

The latter stays in training and could be the star reformer for Sheikh Mohammed of Dubai.

Sheikh Mohammed has topped the owners' list for the last three years and with 300 morses in training in England and Ireland looks all set for a fourth title.

عال او ت

Ooly Isle of Man-based Robert Sangster, five times top owner between 1977-1984, can hope to match Sheikh Mohammed's predominaoce. Sangster would like nothing better than another Derhy winner and will be looking for more winners from his private establishment at Maoton where trainer Barry Hills holds away.

Assured

In Ireland, veteran maestro Vincent O'Brien has 70 borses in training in Ballydoyle and a new stable jockey, John Reid. Good class wioners look assured.

But it will take a minor miracle to shift Cecil from the top of the trainers list. Last season his 180 winners, netting £L.88 millioo ($3.2 millioo), was far in excess of anything ever achieved by a trainer in one year. His 177strong team this term is as impressive as ever.

Evert and Graf score contrasting wins

March 23, (Reuter): Secondseeded American Chris Evert, 33, survived a two-and-a-halfhour struggle with fifth seed Heleoa Sukova of Czechoslovakia to join three tecoagers in the semifinals of the $2.1 million International Players Championships yesterday.

Evert came back after dropping a thrilling and emotionally draining first set tichreak 8-10 to beat Sukova 6-7 7-5 6-4.

Eighteen-year-old world oumber one Steffi Graf, the top seed and defending champioo, powered her way past fellow West German Claudia Kohde-Kilsch 6-3 6-1 in a quarterfinal earlier yesterday. Rallied Graf's semifinal opposent will be 18-year-old Stephenie Rehe, who rallied to upset oiothseeded fellow American Barbara Potter, a lefthanded servevolleyer, 5-7 6-3 6-4.

Evert will play 16-year-old local favourite Mary Joe Fernandez. The 15th-seeded Fernandez eliminated unseeded South African Elna Reinach 6-2 6-3 yesterday afternoon.

Evert, who had lost to Sukova in their previous two meetings, fought hard from the baseline in the first set with the players exchanging hreaks io the fifth and sixth games. Sukova mixed her shots well and changed the pace often to keep the secood seed guessing. Evert took a 6-4 lead in the

"I thought the officiatiog was okay," Evert said. "Bad calls never turned the match around. It was a good quality match and I just gutsed it out."

Though Graf struggled some with her serve, she controlled the match with sheer power and successfully attacked the sixthseeded Kohde-Kilsch's serve.

Graf repeatedly hit winners off the sixth seed's second serve and came up with seven breaks in eight games. Kohde-Kilsch, ranked ninth in the world, got over 75 per cent first serves in play during the 62minute match, but had trouble with her volley when she approached the net.

Graf was able to run off five consecutive games in each set and never let her countrywoman into the match.

Cooservative MP Gerald Howarth said the Test and County Cricket Board (TCCB) should "take careful note of this case and consider what action to take. I think some kind of disciplinary action is deserved, possibly suspension for a number of games when the English cricket season gets under way.

"People who are looked up to, like him, should set an example and not behave like louts."

Another Conservative MP, Irvine Patnick, said: "The board should certainly consider taking some action. After all he sets the lifestyle for millions of youngsters who adulate him.

The TCCB have asked for a full report from their Australian counterparts on Botham's behaviour.

TCCB chief executive Alan Smith said: "I'm not going to speculate as to what may or may not happen following receipt of the report. We may not receive it until after Easter and it would be wrong to comment until then."

Botham, who has just completed the first seasoo of a threeyear contract with Queensland, was fined earlier this month by the Australian Cricket Board following an on-field row and faces a further investigation after a dressing-room incident in Tasmania.

Botham last week grabbed a passenger in a headlock and shook him violently after he was told to tone down obscene and offensive language, prosecutor Jeff Scholz told the Perth magistrate's court.

Botham, was travelling with his team between Melbourne and Perth on March 15 when the incident occurred.

He was originally charged with two counts of assault and one of disorderly conduct Today one of the assault charges was dropped and the charge of disorderly conduct was changed to offensive behaviour.

Australian former Test cricketer Greg Ritchie, also charged with offensive behaviour during the same flight, pleaded not guilty. Ritchie's case was postponed until October 17. Scholz said Botham's language had worsened during a heated argument with Australian team captain Allan Bor-A passenger sitting in front of Botham had turned and said to him: "Come on fella, keep it down—it's becoming a bit common in here. Botham leaned over and told the man to mind his own business, Scholz said, adding: "He then grabbed him by the scalp and hair and shook his head from side to side forcefully oo several occasions. Botham told another passenger: "You --- eyes to the front and shut up, or you'll be next." He had also abused a woman pas-

Lawyer John Stande, for Botham, said the cricketer had later apologised to the man, Alan Winter, and felt remorse and deep regret for his actions.
